

Decision on DeGaulle Will Come Soon

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle pressed today for a showdown on his bid to take over the French government legally. A decision was expected soon.

The key Socialist party was reported swinging toward approving De Gaulle as premier with the full powers he demands. The general planned to meet with the Socialists and other center parties.

The 57 Socialist deputies planned a morning meeting to reconsider their opposition to the World War II hero.

The Socialists have been torn between fears that if they grant power to De Gaulle he would become a dictator but if they reject him France might be torn by civil war.

The widespread fears of civil war were sharpened Friday night by the first serious outbreak of violence reported since the crisis began May 13.

Supporters of the general were demonstrating in automobiles on the Champs Elysees when anti-Gaullists attacked their cars. A flying squad of the police forces that are thick in Paris broke it up.

At least six persons were injured, including a child and three policemen.

De Gaulle arrived in Paris from his rural home as the battle was going on, but he didn't get near it. After several quick trips to the capital for conferences.

Earlier in the crisis, this time he brought his wife and a carload of luggage and established himself in a quiet hotel.

The 57-year-old general planned to confer with leaders of the so-called republican parties — those between the Communist left and the Poujadist extreme right. Some usually well-informed sources said he had set today as the deadline for winning enough support from Parliament to become premier — and then send Parliament on a six-month vacation.

De Gaulle reportedly planned to offer political leaders a deal whereby he would receive full power to run the government for one year and then give up the premiership.

De Gaulle is seeking a free hand to try to settle the 3½-year rebellion by Algerian nationalists seeking freedom from France.

The crisis began with an insurrection by French military leaders and rightist politicians in Algiers. Some leaders said the insurrection was planned six months ago to force a change in the French constitution to provide for a stronger executive—one of De Gaulle's objectives.

ONE IN A MILLION—Edward (Dutch) Sommer stands alone among the nearly one million persons engaged in automobile manufacturing. He occupies his unique status by virtue of being the only glass blower employed by Ford Motor Co., the only auto manufacturer which produces its own glass. Dutch, who has spent 50 of his 63 years in his chosen profession, blows "fishbowls" to be used in laboratory tests. Using a pipe six feet long, he removes a white-hot sample from the molten mass in the melting furnace at Dearborn, Mich. Sommer blows into the pipe and quickly transforms the shapeless mass into a delicate sphere. The "fishbowl" then undergoes purity tests in the plant's quality control laboratory.

Negro Group Shocked by Ike's Words

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP)—An 11-state organization of Southern Negro ministers and laymen has expressed "dismay and shock" that President Eisenhower should ask Negroes for "patience and forbearance."

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference adopted the resolution last night after its president, the Rev. Martin Luther King, of Montgomery, Ala., urged care in Negroes' efforts to gain freedom and justice.

King, who led the non-violent Montgomery bus boycott, said Negroes will "create a long and desolate night of bitterness" if they do not use proper methods.

The resolution said in part: "The President asks that patience and forbearance be exercised by Negroes, that the letter of the law be not pursued, and that we must make sure enforcement of the law does not create injustice."

Local Option Vote Planned at Sulphur

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Efforts will be made at the November general election to make Sulphur the fourth "dry" township in Garland County.

County Judge J. M. Lowrey yesterday directed a local liquor option question placed on the ballot after receiving a petition signed by 97 of Sulphur's 215 voters.

Garland County's only three townships which ban the sale of liquor are Farmer, Lee and Phillips.

In the dying light, the two bronze coffins sank slowly into the crypts.

In silence, the uniformed body bearers stood at hand salute, the two civilian officials each placed his hand over his heart.

Tax Take in State Up $1 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State tax collections for May of this year totaled over one million dollars more than collections for the same month last year.

May collections were $15,841,000 this year and $14,720,190 in 1937.

Figures released yesterday by Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney showed total collections for the first 11 months of the fiscal year which ends June 30 as $124,583,178 compared to $109,370,825 for the first 11 months of last year.

Most of the increase was from sales tax collections, reflecting an increase of from two to three percent. Sales tax collections for the 11-month period were $43,345,947, compared to $31,011,057 for last year.

Cheney said a 1937 change in the state income tax law was not yielding as much revenue as had been expected. Through May, $13,308,822 had been collected this year, compared to $19,921,207 for last year.

The conference also renewed its request that President Eisenhower grant an audience to Negro leaders "in an effort to resolve the difficult problems that now obtain and that will no doubt be increased when school begins in September."

The next conference meeting was set for Norfolk, Va., in early September. May was principal closing speaker here.

States represented included Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, West Virginia, Florida and Georgia.

Fire Damages Church in N. Little Rock

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Fire caused heavy damage to the Eighth Street Baptist Church here today and three firemen were injured slightly in battling the blaze.

Flames engulfed the roof of the church and caused it to collapse into the sanctuary.

The Rev. W. B. Vaughn, pastor, said it would cost about $25,000 to replace the brick veneer and frame building. He said the loss was partly covered by insurance.

The 2½-story church was built about 15 years ago. The congregation numbered about 450, the minister said.

Firemen hurt in the early morning blaze were B. S. Brown who suffered a hand laceration, W. D. Robinson and R. L. Wilson. None was hospitalized.

Cause of the blaze couldn't be determined immediately.

It was the second church fire in the Little Rock area in five days. Yesterday the First Presbyterian Church in downtown Little Rock was heavily damaged by a fire of unknown origin. The loss in that fire had not been determined today but was expected to run into thousands of dollars.

Unknown War Heroes Are Laid to Rest

By ELTON C. FAY

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—With pomp and pageantry ended, the Unknown warriors of World War I and Korea were at rest today on a hill overlooking the capital of the nation for which they died.

Under Friday's warm sun, the two Unknowns—representing all the nameless dead of the most recent wars—were brought to the tomb where for almost 37 years the Unknown Soldier of World War I has slept alone.

There were marching troops, the subdued music of bands, artillery salutes and a fly-over of jets. Prayers were said and the President of the United States bore stowed Medals of Honor on the two nameless Americans.

An estimated 115,000 persons lined the route of the funeral procession. Thousands more packed the amphitheater at the Arlington National Cemetery and stood in tribute as the twin bronze caskets were placed above open crypts.

But at dusk Friday night there was the final, lonely act of the drama that opened weeks ago when selection of the Unknowns began across the seas.

In the gloaming, the two were buried.

Only a few remained of the thousands who had thronged the cemetery during the formal services.

As the lights of Washington twinkled on across the Potomac, the nine body bearers filed onto the plaza and drew to attention. Behind them stood perhaps half a hundred spectators.

The superintendent of the national cemetery and his assistants stepped forward. Each unfurled chains restraining the caskets.

In the dying light, the two bronze coffins sank slowly into the crypts.

In silence, the uniformed body bearers stood at hand salute, the two civilian officials each placed his hand over his heart.

Ladies Day Is Held Thursday in England

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP)—It was ladies' day in England Thursday.

A woman was hauled into court on a burglary charge because the elastic in her panties gave way.

A girl pulled the wrong chain and stopped a train carrying 300 passengers.

A girl was parted from her bridegroom by the Town Council, which held that his presence overcrowded the house they lived in.

And the strongest girl in the world lost her grip on her fiancé.

First the case of the perfidious panties. They belonged to Mrs. Ham. She was walking down the street when the elastic snapped.

As the panties began their stow but certain slither into public view, comely Mrs. King looked frantically about for cover. Spying what she thought was a vacant bungalow, she popped in through a window to make emergency repairs. At this point the front door opened and in walked the bungalow's owner, Frederick Dowie. He called the police.

Mrs. King blushing told the judge her story. He acquitted her.

Up in East Anglia meanwhile, a fast train from London pulled to a halt several miles short of Norwich, its destination. Somebody has pulled the emergency brake chain. The conductor rapped on the door of the ladies' room and out darted a frightened schoolgirl, almost in tears.

"I pulled and pulled and pulled, and I can't make the lavatory go," she gasped.

Over to Haydock in Lancashire, there the Town Council notified Mrs. and Mrs. J. B. Marsh that their new son-in-law Melvin Shaw makes one tenant too many in their town-owned house. Melvin must go. His bride, nee Melva Marsh, may stay.

Back to London, where strong girl Joan Rhodes—she rips phone books and such as vaudeville headliner—learned that you can't bend a male in your hands like a nail.

Her fiancé, singer Don Rennie said he is calling it quits because after a two-year engagement Joan still won't name a day for the nuptials. Also his friends made 10 many jokes about his comparative puniness.

Miss Rhodes, a plump brunette of 27-28-37, once sprained Bob Hope's back in a TV comedy, demanding the power of her sinews. Admittedly, Rennie's puniness means she's compromised. It may be the strongest woman in the world but she's a woman, not a man.

Soldier Gives Aid, Is Electrocuted

AFTON, Okla. (AP)—A young soldier saw a wrecked and burning car in a ditch early today and heard the cries of help.

Ignoring warnings of bystanders of a possible explosion, he rushed down a 10-foot embankment and dragged two men to safety. After he pulled a third away from the blazing car, he accidentally touched a high-voltage line knocked down by the car.

William Howard Britt, 21, the soldier, was electrocuted, and fell next to the men he had saved.

His bride of less than three months, Joanne, 18, was a witness.

Britt was being transferred to Ft. Monmouth, N. J., from Ft. Ord, Calif.

The highway patrol said a car driven by Robert Frank Snow, 20, Nowata, Okla., went out of control.

One of the passengers managed to get to the highway and flag motorists for help.

Town Marshal Vernon Lobney said several who stopped were afraid to approach the burning car.

Serious Side of Politics Forgotten

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The serious side of Arkansas politics was forgotten for awhile last night as the Pulaski County Bar Assn. staged its biennial Gridiron Dinner here.

Gov. Orval Faubus came in for a good-natured ribbing that began when he set up campaign headquarters in front of the girls dressing room at Central High School.

Billy S. Clark, playing the governor in the role of "Field Marshal Orval Faubus," sang:

"The nation belongs to Krushchev and Khrushchev."

"But Arkansas belongs to me," The Gridiron Show, which played before a capably audience in the Marion Hotel ballroom, was written by an anonymous committee of the Bar Assn.

Little Rock's integration controversy was spoofed frequently in the seven skits.

The different satires were linked by the experiences of a "space man" who came to Earth to study terrestrial politics and law.

A "local citizen" met the space man on the Capitol grounds where the visitor's Sputnik had landed. The space man, played by Willis Townsend, naturally said "Take me to your leader."

On the way to see Faubus, the local citizen—Jack Holt Jr.—and the alien visitor met a group of four men arguing. The local citizen explained that they were attorneys "fighting over whose turn it is to sue the NAACP."

The four impersonators of Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of El Dorado, and attorneys Kenneth Corfield, M. V. Moody and Amos Guthrie of Little Rock, sang to the tune of "Sugartime" this ditty:

"Suing in the morning,
Suing in the evening,
Suing someone all the time
Always litigating.
To turn an honest dime,
"Braaaaag" in the office,
Cryin' in the courtroom,
Pleading our clients' case,
Nothing but simple justice
Shown on our simple face."

The space man and the local citizen found Faubus, clad in a resplendent uniform, before a sign labeled "Girls' Dressing Room, C. H. S."

After learning that the space man arrived on a Sputnik, Faubus mentioned casually that "Ike wanted me to ride one of those."

In other skills, impersonators did "takeoffs" on gubernatorial candidates Les Ward of Paragould and Chris Finkbeiner of Little Rock, other state officials and persons in the news.

Summons Issued for Lew Farrell

WASHINGTON (AP)—Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate Labor Relations Committee said today a summons has been issued for the appearance of Lew Farrell, Des Moines, Iowa.

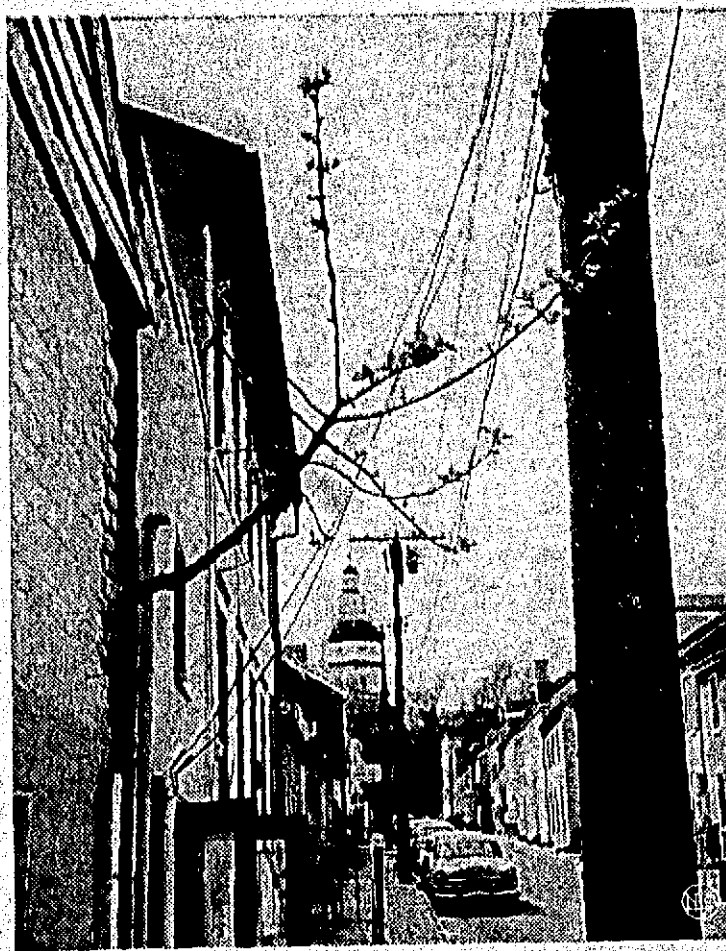

Kennedy described Farrell as an associate of "camaraderie" President James B. Hoffa and said he "is active in certain matters in which the committee is interested."

Kennedy didn't say when Farrell will appear before the committee.

Farrell, formerly of Chicago, has been questioned twice in recent years by congressional committees — the Kefauver Crime Committee and the Federal Housing Administration Investigating Committee.

Those committees were critical of Farrell's activities in the beer business and in the home construction and improvement field.

Farrell also is a close friend of Tammany organizer Robert F. Kennedy, one of Hoffa's assistants. Baker, twice divorced, recently married Carole Ann Moore, daughter of Iowa Democratic Chairman Jake Mure.

Pioneer Washington Sure to Be Fine Tourist Attraction

By Mary Anita Laseter

If you were told that a potential gold mine was just waiting for you to develop it, no doubt, wild horses would not keep you from making the most of your opportunity.

Such a situation exists today for the people of Hempstead County. The location of this "gold mine" is ten miles northwest of Hope, in the "Cradle of Arkansas History," the town of Washington.

Recently, a group of residents formed the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation, a non-profit, benevolent corporation which hopes to educate the public as to the historical importance of the old town of Washington.

Another purpose is to preserve, restore, mark, and maintain the historical points of interest so that they could be opened to the public as educational and tourist attractions.

Of particular interest to our neighbors in Texas would be a replica of the tavern where Sam Houston planned the Texas Revolution. The original tavern was torn down 15 years ago, but it could be rebuilt exactly because of photographs and specifications which have been preserved.

The same is true of the blacksmith shop where James Black made the famous Bowie knife. People all over the country have heard of it, but how many know where it was first made?

One of the most beautiful examples of Mother Nature's handiwork is the enormous magnolia tree at Washington. It was received nationally publicity and public interest in it could be revived, particularly at the magnificent height of its blooming season.

The old state capital, during three years of the Civil War, has been preserved and maintained by the state. It is well kept with a good fence around it. However, it would be even better as a tourist attraction if the near-by area were converted into a commons or a similar mark of that era.

And what about the Abraham Block home, the first two-story house erected in Hempstead county? Or the home of Ruth McEnery Stuart, the now-forgotten but one time nationally recognized novelist of the post Civil War period? Then, there is the exact route of the Old Military Road through the town.

In a recent editorial in the Arkansas Democrat this statement was made in reference to historical points in Washington:

"It just one restoration is carried out with complete authenticity, outside groups and individuals will be encouraged to assist with other undertakings."

NOW, other parts of the country make profitable use of their historical sites and structures. Why couldn't we do the same?

Body of U. S. Cardinal Arrives Home

CHICAGO (AP) — The body of Samuel Cardinal Stritch was brought to Chicago today—fulfilling one of his last wishes, but in an ironic way.

The plane bearing the prelate's body from Rome arrived at O'Hare Field. Hundreds of clergy, men, city officials and men, women and children were at the airport.

When Cardinal Stritch left Chicago April 15 to take a post in the Vatican, he told the crowd at the La Salle St. Railroad Station he hoped to return to Chicago.

He added: "I pray that some day you will come down to the railroad station to welcome me."

Little Rock Is Taking to City Manager Plan

By By RAMSEY

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Six months ago a bustling boyish-looking executive who specializes in rescuing cities with financial ailments came to Little Rock as its first city manager. A big majority of the city is glad he did. "One look at the records and I was amazed," said Dean I. Dauley. "I never encountered such hazardous finances."

Dauley's nervous eyes took in everything. The city records showed that about three million dollars yearly was being collected. Yet the city sometimes had to borrow money from banks to meet a pay roll.

The street layout was even worse, Dauley said. There was no pattern, no planning, no standards. Dauley, a 32-year-old pneumatically graying Texan, had run amok into two problems which have stumped Little Rock's mayors and councils for decades.

Little Rock voters finally tired of the situation and took the advice of a Pulaski County grand jury—they voted out the mayor-council system and switched to the planarship. By almost any standard, the change has proved beneficial to the city.

Under the old method the mayor and 10 aldermen would wrangle over nearly every issue. Two were elected by each of five wards and ward problems were nearest and dearest to their hearts.

The result at council meetings was an impasse that resembled French parliamentary tactics. There had to be temporary coalitions by aldermen to pass necessary ordinances.

There was even more confusion when the councilmen were opposed to the mayor—as was often the case in the last two city administrations.

Under the new system there are seven city directors elected at large and responsible to the entire city. They will be chosen henceforth every two years on a staggered basis.

City manager Dauley was hired by the directors. He was lured here from Grand Prairie, Tex., with a salary raise of $4,000 annually. He now earns $17,500 yearly plus $1,200 for car expenses.

"He's worth it," one city department head said. "He saved the city his salary a few months after he got here."

City directors apparently agree. "If any of us weren't sold on Dauley at first we certainly are now. Our biggest fear is that he has made such a success that other cities may try to grab him from us with lucrative offers."

Many Arkansans outside of Little Rock became aware of Dauley for the first time when he received his famous punch in the nose from an irate citizen a few months ago. The incident was an aftermath of gambling raids that Dauley had ordered.

Today it's more difficult to place a bet here than it used to be. But Dauley's punch in the nose is mainly an overblown illustration of the spirit that seems to be slowly pervading this city these days. A polka tune hit it this way: "Somebody in this hall is doing something for a change. And when he stops on somebody's toe there's going to be a reaction."

Dauley's other accomplishments so far are broader if less picturesque. Dauley has instituted a central audit and pay roll system. It used to require 40 city employees to draw up pay rolls. Now a central office does the job.

He has arranged for machine operation of all city records which used to be kept by hand ledgers. He has installed a budget control system under which any city department head — or else city manager — can find out at any time just how finances stand. Formerly it was a time consuming operation to learn this and the city rarely knew how its overall accounts shaped up.

He has raised salaries of more than half the city's 700 employees without draining any other fund. The salary boosts were made possible by greater efficiency in city operations.

He has hired a traffic engineer, Henry De Noble, and a finance director, A. M. Doughton, and Dauley is seeking a qualified city engineer to complete a team of aides he says he must have.

He has spearheaded a proposed ordinance which may come up for directors' approval Monday. For the first time in history Little Rock would gain control over the building of streets.

"And we intend to make sure the maintenance of the present streets is done properly," Dauley said.

Even the casual resident notices some of Dauley's other achievements. Bright street signs are going up. One of the most repetitious complaints of visitors as well as residents was that they could never find a street. Now they can find it in both in cars and on foot. This is part of Dauley's modernization of the police department that allows women to perform clerical duties at headquarters.

And the cops, judging from citizen reaction appear more courteous. This unprecedented trend stems from the courtesy schools ordered by Dauley. Word to the policemen who henceforth draw a barrage of consistent, provable citizen complaints.

One of the most repetitious complaints of visitors as well as residents was that they could never find a street. Now they can find it in both in cars and on foot. This is part of Dauley's modernization of the police department that allows women to perform clerical duties at headquarters.

And the cops, judging from citizen reaction appear more courteous. This unprecedented trend stems from the courtesy schools ordered by Dauley. Word to the policemen who henceforth draw a barrage of consistent, provable citizen complaints.

something for a change. And when he stops on somebody's toe there's going to be a reaction."

Dauley has instituted a central audit and pay roll system. It used to require 40 city employees to draw up pay rolls. Now a central office does the job.

He has arranged for machine operation of all city records which used to be kept by hand ledgers. He has installed a budget control system under which any city department head — or else city manager — can find out at any time just how finances stand. Formerly it was a time consuming operation to learn this and the city rarely knew how its overall accounts shaped up.

He has raised salaries of more than half the city's 700 employees without draining any other fund. The salary boosts were made possible by greater efficiency in city operations.

He has hired a traffic engineer, Henry De Noble, and a finance director, A. M. Doughton, and Dauley is seeking a qualified city engineer to complete a team of aides he says he must have.

He has spearheaded a proposed ordinance which may come up for directors' approval Monday. For the first time in history Little Rock would gain control over the building of streets.

"And we intend to make sure the maintenance of the present streets is done properly," Dauley said.

Even the casual resident notices some of Dauley's other achievements. Bright street signs are going up. One of the most repetitious complaints of visitors as well as residents was that they could never find a street. Now they can find it in both in cars and on foot. This is part of Dauley's modernization of the police department that allows women to perform clerical duties at headquarters.

Lorch Couple Set to Leave Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. Lee Lorch, a white professor of mathematics at Philander Smith College for Negroes here, said yesterday that he had accepted an appointment as visiting lecturer for the 1959-60 school year at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

Both Dr. Lorch and his wife, Grace, have figured in Congressional investigation into communism and the two have been among advocates of integration here.

Mrs. Lorch was in the news last fall when she comforted a Negro girl harassed by a group of white persons outside Central High School during the integration crisis.

Later she was summoned before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee at Memphis to answer questions about alleged Communist activities. Each time a question was asked she tried to rule out of order. She recently received a new subpoena to appear before the subcommittee.

Earlier Lorch was tried at Dayton, Ohio, and acquitted on charges of contempt of Congress for refusal to answer some questions of a House non-American Activities Subcommittee. He was on the faculty of Clark University at Nashville, Tenn., at the time.

The Lorchs have blamed their troubles with Congressional committees on their fight against school segregation.

Asked if he would return to Philander Smith, Lorch said "The future is hard to predict."

He has headed the Department of Mathematics at the College since September, 1955, and this year has been chairman of the mathematics section of the Arkansas Academy of Science.

A member of the College board said Lorch had not been asked to leave. The spokesman said Lorch's work at the college had been excellent.

Lorch said his decision to take the Wesleyan position had no connection with the integration controversy here.

He said he would spend the summer doing research in mathematics at Leland Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

Morrilton Takes Lead in Baseball

What About Red Buttons After Oscar?

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What has happened to Red Buttons A.C. After Oscar?

"Many wonderful things," said Red. "It's not just the offers that make you feel good, though they are nice to."

"The real thrill is the change in attitude that people have toward you. I don't just mean getting ringside seats from head waiters; I always got them anyway, because I knew all the head waiters."

"It's a new respect that you feel from people, especially in your own profession. You know that they believe you have worked hard to achieve some success."

"The big thing is not the Oscar itself, but the fact that so many people were pulling for you to be a winner."

Red was a winner for his supporting role in "Sayonara." The achievement has secured the one-time madcap comic of TV."

"I feel the responsibility to the people who had faith in me," he said. "I want to improve as an actor, and I'm working hard in that direction."

When he is in New York he attends classes twice weekly with other aspiring actors."

"It's really inspiring," he said. "Sitting next to me might be an actor whose total earnings last year were $900. Another might have earned $8,500. We're all working toward a common goal—improving ourselves as actors."

What next? He said he has been reading movie scripts, but has found nothing to intrigue him yet. This summer he'll play a number of night club dates. I asked about chances he would do a TV series again, in view of his new success and the fact that another TV retreat, Uncle Millie Berle, is returning to the home screens."

"No series next season," Red declared. "I'll just do some guest shots."

Because of his flipflop on TV, Red looks at his present success philosophically: "I realize now that your career can't stay on top all the time. Next year there will be another academy winner. I'll just continue doing the best I know how."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Any blanket change in property assessments would be illegal, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled yesterday.

Bennett wrote the opinion for North Little Rock Alderman John O. May, who recently advocated a 20 per cent blanket decrease in Pulaski County assessments. May is a candidate for Pulaski County judge.

with John Alden KnightFish and Sore Mouths
Every now and again a letter comes in asking about the fish of month, or the year, when fish are supposed to have sore mouths and thus refuse to feed. This is an old-folklore belief that, strangely enough, is given considerable credence, particularly in rural areas.

Always we have been of the opinion that there is no basis of truth upon which this belief could be founded. Just to be on the safe side, however, we wrote to three ichthyologists; good, solid scientists who earn their living working with fish.

They agreed that the belief will not hold water. Fish, so far as can be learned, do not have periodic sieges of sore mouth. There are a great many things which may put fish off the feed, but this is not one of them.

Litterbugging Laws
Having returned recently from a trip to the Florida Keys, one of the striking things observed on the trip was the frequency with which "litterbug" warnings were erected along the highways. In all of the seaboard states between Pennsylvania and Florida inclusive motorists were warned of possible arrest and fines for throwing trash from the car windows.

Time was that the job of keeping the highways clean was one of the major proportion of a state's highway department today. A person thinks twice about throwing things out of a car when faced with possible arrest with a fine of $100 and costs.

Only recently Pennsylvania has widened the scope of its litterbug law. As of January 1st last the law became part of the fish code so that wardens are now directly empowered to make arrests as a part of their regular job.

Specifically, the amendment to the fish code passed by the 1957 Legislature empowers the fish warden to arrest any person found in any of the following acts in or along the waters of the Commonwealth and lands adjacent and contiguous thereto: leaving garbage, bottles, cans, rubbish, etc., along the shore; throwing or dumping any paper, cardboard or wood, or other type of debris or trash; obstructing an owner or his tenant ingress, egress, or regress to his property or cattleways; digging in or driving upon fields under cultivation.

The law provides for a $10 fine and costs for each offense. Moreover, a second conviction causes an angler to lose his or her fishing license for one year. No longer do you find sandwich papers, beer cans and trash littering the parking spaces near our trout streams. Folks are learning the hard way that it pays to keep our outdoors clean.

The Immobilizer Gun
The Crosman Arms Company has announced that they are manufacturing the Palmer Chemical and Equipment Company an "immobilizer gun."

This gun shoots a medicated dart which, on impact with an animal, acts much like a hypodermic needle. The amount of anesthetic in the needle can be regulated to suit the size and weight of the animal in question. Upon being struck, the animal quietly goes to sleep within a very few minutes. The effects last only a short time after which the animal is as good as ever, unharmed by the experience save for the tiny puncture where the dart strikes.

Recent tests were conducted at the National Zoo in Washington on buffalo, lions, oxen and other types of large animals. The tests were declared quite satisfactory.

This weapon is indeed a boon to the working staffs of our conservation agencies. For example, consider the problem which faced the wardens of Alaska not long ago. A resident of one of the Alaskan cities was building a new house on the outskirts of town. The basement had been dug, the concrete floor poured and the basement walls built of concrete blocks.

One morning the owner and his assistants were amazed to find the basement tenanted by a large and irate mouse which evidently had fallen into the enclosure during the night. Not only could the mouse not climb out, also he resented being bothered and would charge anybody even approaching "his" basement.

Fortunately the wardens had access to an immobilizer gun. The mouse was shot with a dart holding a generous charge of anesthetic and shortly thereafter lay down in peaceful slumber. Thereupon the wardens rigged block and tackle, hoisted the mouse out of the basement and onto a truck. He was transported to a safe distance from town where he was unloaded and allowed to recover and amble off into the woods.

There are many uses to which the field men can put this gun. Deer can be immobilized, examined for disease, tagged, and allowed to recover all this without damage to the animal. Trapped animals, such as beaver, deer, beaver, otters, etc., can be handled and transported safely and without damage either to the animals or the handlers.

With the extermination of rabid dogs, always there is danger to people when firearms are used. With this immobilizer, safely can be insured for all and the animals disposed of quietly and without public demonstration. It is truly a splendid and much-needed development.

The Palmer Chemical and Equipment Company has prepared a brochure which shows the use of this gun. If your sportsman's group would like to see it, write to that company at 134 Houston St., S. E. Atlanta, Georgia.

In Memoriam

They have not died in vain...those who paid with their lives the last full measure. Today, Memorial Day, is the day to remember Lexington, Gettysburg, Santiago Bay, Chateau Thierry, Coral Sea, Okinawa, Palermo, Normandy and Korea. We need only to look at the cemeteries of the world to realize the supreme sacrifice that was called for, that we might be secure. It called for the giving of life itself for many a man; for untold sorrow and heartache for friends and loved ones. As they bravely died, so we must bravely live. God has a destiny for us, for America, and only eyes of faith can read that destiny. Each drop of blood spilled from Bunker Hill to Iwo Jima, is a deposit in the bank of our country. One hundred sixty-five million Americans can do no less than dedicate ourselves anew. With our Alabaster Ointment of thankfulness, let us nobly remember those who laid themselves between our country and her foes. This is Memorial Day.
